10 of 10 review helpful A few great stories a few duds but overall an entertaining read By SK Nash I enjoy best of anthologies because they give me a chance to read things I may have missed along the way I know that I will not like everything as horror is often just a matter of taste I was particularly pleased to see poetry in the anthology These were my favorites Mantis Wives by Kij Johnson The anthro Darkness both literal and psychological holds its own unique fascination Despite our fears or perhaps because of them listeners have always been drawn to tales of death terror madness and the supernatural and no more so than today when a wildly imaginative new generation of dark dreamers is carrying on in the tradition of Poe and Lovecraft and King crafting exquisitely disturbing literary nightmares that gaze without flinching into the abyss mdash and linger About the Author ELLEN DATLOW Editor has been editing science fiction fantasy and horror short fiction for over twenty five years She was the fiction editor of OMNI magazine and has edited more than fifty anthologies She received the 2007 Karl Edwar
